

Literacy Links: Readers With Special Needs

Advanced Search

Association Home

[Literacy
Connection Home](#)

Literacy Links

[Adult & Family
Literacy](#)

[English as a
Second Language](#)

[Literacy
Associations and
Research Centers](#)

[Readers With
Special Needs](#)

[Teacher and
Parent Resources](#)

Education Links

ADDHelpline

An online community, newsletter, and resource center for parents, teachers, and others who work with children with ADD/ADHD.

The American Printing House for the Blind

Provides the special media, tools, and materials necessary to promote independence of blind and visually impaired persons.

Keep Kids Learning

IRA has joined with several other education organizations to sponsor Keep Kids Learning, a grassroots campaign to bring needed change to the U.S. Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). If you want children with learning problems to be heard in Congress, be their voice: Visit the Keep Kids Learning site to find information about joining the e-mail campaign. This initiative is funded by the National Center for Learning Disabilities.

LDOnLine

This site is an interactive guide to learning disabilities for parents, teachers, and other professionals. Numerous articles, resources, and ideas on a variety of LD topics are available.

Reading Assist Institute \(RAI\)

RAI provides instructional classes that directly link sight, sound, touch, and movement to teach intensive, systematic phonics. Serving Delaware, southeastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and eastern Maryland, RAI places teams of highly trained tutors in schools to instruct students. RAI interacts with the community through a referral service for private tutors and a lending library, and it sponsors speakers and book reviews. RAI advocates for early identification and appropriate instruction of children with specific reading disabilities.

Recording for the Blind & Dyslexic \(RFB&D\)

[Education
Associations](#)

[International
Resources](#)

Research Centers

[Teacher and
Parent Resources](#)

Technology

RFB&D's materials are for all people who cannot effectively read standard print because of a visual, perceptual or other physical disability. RFB&D records educational and reference materials that are not available on tape or disk from other sources, in areas such as history, math, science and economics.

SchwabLearning.org

This site helps parents identify and manage their children's learning disabilities. A variety of topics are covered in detail, including AD/HD, LD in general, dyslexia, IEP, homework, reading, and writing.

Special Education Resources on the Internet \(SERI\)

SERI is a collection of Internet information resources of interest to those involved in the fields related to Special Education. Mental retardation, learning disabilities, attention deficit disorder, and hearing impairment are only a few of the major resource groupings.

Special Education Topics, Ministry of Education, British Columbia

The Ministry of Education provides resources to educators who work with students who have special needs. Teachers everywhere can make use of this practical, need-specific information.

TeachingLD: Information and Resources for Teaching Students with Learning Disabilities

Created by the Division for Learning Disabilities (DLD) of the Council for Exceptional Children, this site's purpose is to provide trustworthy and up-to-date resources about teaching students with learning disabilities.

Association Home | Site Map | Search | Security & Privacy Policy

©1996-2003 International Reading Association. All rights reserved.